Turin, June 19, N. S.

BEFORE the Auſtrian Army left Milan, Count Schulemberg arrived to take the Command of it, and Prince Lobcowitz ſet out thereupon for Vienna. On the 14th and 15th the Army paſſed the Po, and marched to Voghera. The Infant was by our laſt Accounts at Albenga, and ſome Letters ſay pretty much out of Order. We were for a while in ſome Apprehenſion for a conſiderable Poſt of near 2000 Militia, and 500 regular Troops, at Il Marro near Oniglia, which M. de Mirepoix, by his March with a Column of French Infantry, it was thought, had cut off. But the commanding Officer, from his entire Knowledge of the Country, had ſecured his Retreat, and held out till his Proviſions and Ammunition fail'd him, and then retired, without loſing a Man, into the County of Nice, where he join'd the other Detachment we ſtill have there. We this Moment learn, that an Officer is arrived from the County of Nice, with Advice, that our Detachments there, under the Command of the Chevalier Alfieri, had ſurpriſed the Town of Ventimiglia belonging to the Genoeſe, and burnt, or otherwiſe deſtroyed, the conſiderable Magazines which the French had there, which were guarded by a Detachment of 50 Men, with a Captain and a Lieutenant, who have been made Priſoners of War. If this be true, it will retard the March of the French Troops into the Riviera.

Semenitz, June 15. On Friday laſt we encamped at Jaromitz, between the Motta and the Elbe, and the Head Quarters were at Pleſs, in which Situation we remained the 12th, 13th, and 14th.

The 12th the Enemy's advanced Guard, conſiſting of 13000 Men, marched to the Plain near Scallitz.

The 13th they marched to Nachod, which they pillaged, as they had done Braunau the Day before: They alſo made ſeveral other Motions, notwithſtanding which General Wallis remained with his Advanced Guard at Scallitz, as did General Nadaſti with his at Neuſtadt.

The 15th we changed our Camp, repaſſed the River Motta, and encamped very advantageouſly, the Head Quarters being fixed at Semenitz. The ſame Day 3000 Foot and 500 Horſe joined us from Carlſtadt, who, together with the Militia of the Banat, the Tranſylvanians, and other Irregular Troops, under the Command of Baron St. Andre, Colonel of the Regiment of Botta, guard the Trees that were cut down in the Neighbourhood of Oppothna, Dobruska, and other Paſſes in the Mountains.

We received Yeſterday a Reinforcement of Artillery, and two Battalions of the Regiment of Platz. The Regiments of Damnitz and Bareyth, with the Remainder of the Battalions who were ranſom'd from the French, are alſo in full March, and a conſiderable Train of Artillery is coming from Olmitz, Brynn, and Vienna.

Mentz, June 22. The Prince of Conti has demanded 200 Waggons from the Elector of Mentz's Bailiffs, and it is ſaid he will deſcend from his preſent Situation to Gros Gerau, in order to defend the Lower Mayn. We have Advice this Morning from Worms, that the French Hoſpital, Surgeons, &c. began their March Yeſterday from that Neighbourhood towards their Army; from whence we infer here, that the Prince of Conti intends to wait for Marſhal Traun. As to their Magazines, it is not above five or ſix Days ſince they employ'd 900 Waggons to tranſport all the Forage which they had laid up in the Neighbourhood of Worms and Spire to Landau; but within theſe two Days they have brought back a good Deal of it.

Vienna, June 26, N. S. The Duke of Aremberg and Prince Lobcowitz arrived here the Day before Yeſterday. The firſt is talked of for the Government of Milan, the other ſets out in a Day or two to ſerve as General of Horſe under Prince Charles. The Auſtrians and Piemonteſe have taken the important Poſt of Novi, in order to ſtop the eaſieſt Paſſage thro' which the Enemy could hope to penerate by the Buchetta into Lombardy. We are aſſured here, that M. de Gages's and M. de Maillebois's whole Force, if united, will not exceed 50 or 52,000 Men. It is ſaid here that Prince Charles has been obliged to remove his Head Quarters to Pardubitz.

Berlin,

{ Price Two-Pence. }

Berlin, June 29, N. S. We have Advice from Bohemia of the 21ſt, that his Pruſſian Majeſty was that Day with his whole Army near Konigingratz, and that General Nadaſti was poſted thereabouts with 8000 Men, in order to cover that Town, whilſt the main Body of the Combined Army was retiring towards Pardubitz, whither they had tranſported their Magazines. It is reported here, that the Avant Guard of the Magdebourg Corps is marched to a Place called Groskog, in the Neighbourhood of Halle, and that the main Body of that Army will very ſhortly follow that Corps, under the Command of the reigning Prince of Deſſau.

Wachtersbach, June 30, N. S. The Armies under the Marſhals Traun and Bathiani have, from the 24th Inſtant to this Day, remained in the ſame Situation in this Neighbourhood. But a new Camp is order'd to be mark'd out, to which both Armies will advance To-morrow.

Dreſden, June 30, N. S. We have Advice here by Letters of the 28th Inſtant from the Combined Army in Bohemia, that upon the 26th at Night the Pruſſians attacked one of our Poſts on the Alder, and killed about 60 Men, but were repulſed with greater Loſs, and left ſome Cannon behind them in a Moraſs, of which the Allies not being inform'd, the Enemy recover'd them the next Day, when his Pruſſian Majeſty had changed the Poſition of his Camp, and was come nearer to the ſaid River. The Allies remained in theirs, but had ſome Thoughts of making a Motion. Prince Charles has received two more Regiments of regular Troops, and the Artillery ſent from hence and from Vienna is arrived at Pardubitz. They abound in Proviſions; but the Pruſſians are ſaid to be in great Want; and their Convoys are ſo harraſs'd by the Inſurgents, that his Pruſſian Majeſty had detached a Regiment or two towards Sileſia to oppoſe their Progreſs.

Camp of Gramont, July 3, N. S. The Allied Army arrived here on the 30th paſt, and the next Day encamp'd, with the Abbey of Beaupres on the Right, and the Village of Moerbeck on the Left.

Hague, July 2, N. S. We have Advice from Breſt of the 17th paſt, that M. Guerin, Captain of a Ship in the French King's Service, was arrived there from Cape Breton, which Place he left the 16th of April laſt. The ſaid Captain reports, that an Engliſh Fleet of ſix Men of War and 40 Tranſports were at that Time laying before Louisbourg, and that it was thought that Fort would not hold out many Days. He further adds, that he left the Vigilant, a French Ship of 64 Guns, engaged with three Engliſh Men of War on the 22d of May.
